

Former COB291 Students Unedited Comments:

What is one thing or one action you would do differently about the class if it is at the beginning of the class now?

do more of the assignments; in the beginning it is hard to justify spending 3 hours on one assignment that is only worth 7 points

Dont get behind

Uh...find a way to be able to take COB 300 without 291. But since I had to take it, Dr. Wang was the best.

I would have completed all of the projects even if I thought I was doing it wrong.

I think I would start assignments a lot earlier because sometimes they gathered up on me before they were due and I was overwhelmed.

I would review my notes every day.

Allow more time for homework assignments

Do all of the assignments

Reinforce problems

Ask more questions and go in for additional help from the beginning.

I wish I didn't get really sick during the sensitivity analysis section because that significantly hurt my grade. That test was 220 points, and that was the only test that I didn't get an A on. I also would have done more assignments because even though my test scores are very high, my grade is still going to be around a C

Thats a tough one. I guess I would try to pay closer attention in class.

study more

I would manage my time better for the assignments instead of waiting until the night before to do them because they were very time-intensive.

Spend more time studying for the exams and spend more time on the mini projects.

read the chapters more thoroughly!

There isnt anything that i would do differently.

Go to class as I usually did.

don't leave the assignments till the last minute

I would read the textbook to gain some solid knowledge background & analytical skill for the course.

I would try not to have a busy schedule so I could seek help whenever I need it. It was really hard finding the time to get help on topics.

not get stressed about assignments

Starting studying for tests earlier

Kept fresh on the older material.

Start homework earlier

Study for several hours a night.

Nothing i applied myself as much as i could

Try to outline the chapters before class.

Find a less time consuming job

I would keep my same study habits very similar.

Work with others more than I did.

I would have reviewed the sample test on Blackboard alot more than I did for the first test.

Do all the assignments. There was two i think that i did not finish, and if i could i would make more time to finish them.

I would've printed all the lectures out, even though they are very long.

There really isn't anything else I could have done differently. I studied very hard and long for this class, and still found it difficult because the instructor did not clearly explain the material to my understanding.

nothing, i did all i could

I think I might have printed out ALL of the notes before coming to class each time. Other than that nothing else.

I wish I did the simulation assignemt.

Not eat, sleep, or breathe without thinking about the course materials.\r\nSpending constant hours at Showker, badgering Dr. Wang for answers and clarifications.

I would've asked more questions about the assignments while we were in class so that I could complete them exactly how the professor wanted them.

Ask more questions to the teacher about the homework.

I would not change a thing, I gave it my all in this class so I can't say I would change a thing.

I am not sure, I read the chapters, did the assignments, quizzes, and came to every class.

I would have taken the time to understand Decision Analysis better. It really messed me up on the first test.

Read the book before the class

read his on-line notes more.

Go to office hours more. Do group studies more often

How do you think the various assignments and quizzes have helped you to understand the course contents?

Assignments helped the most in preparing for tests

they improved my ability in solving problems on the tests

Doing the assignments was the key to success in this course.

they helped

I think that some of the assignments tended to be confusing and when we asked the professor questions about the assignments they weren't always answered clearly.

They definitely made sure I learned it.

They helped a lot!

I think although the assignments were time consuming, I think that they greatly helped when exam time came along. I didn't have to worry so much about studying for exams.

The assignments are helpful because they cover the material that we go over in class.

Assignments were just like the questions on the test.

I feel all of the assignments helped me greatly

The assignments were way too long but did help

The assignments helped me understand how the content could be applied to problems.

If there weren't so many assignments, I would have done more, but every time I turned around, there was more work that had to be done. The assignments did help me a lot, but they were very tedious and took a very long time to do.

they helped, but a lot of them were an extreme amount of work

they helped me to fully understand the content

Assignments were crucial

The assignments were very helpful in my understanding of the course contents and were necessary to learn the material.

They were very essential to success in the course.

they helped me apply the concepts and motivated me to truly learn the information

very well

The quizzes helped me learn the material easily and at a good pace.

it helped to prepare for the tests

They are basically very helpful. But it would be better if the amount of workload and some redundant assignment could be reduced.

I have a grip on most topics. I would say the assignments were a success.

assignments help the most when understanding information

Average

Helped the most. Trying it out myself allowed me to understand the material.

They prepared me well for the exams

The assignments really helped in gaining a better understanding of the course material.

The assignment tended to be more difficult than the tests.

The assignment were very long however there are many different types of problems and in order to cover them all he has to make them that long so just do them!!

I think they helped me a lot, some of them were very tedious, but in the end it made me learn the material.

Quizzes were not very helpful and sometimes assignments were too tedious so I felt that I was more concerned with finishing quickly to turn it in on time then really understanding what I was doing.

yes

asdf

They were a valued aspect to the class and are very important in understanding.

Tests were based off of assignment. Without them I would have been lost.

This is what really helped me understand what we were learning the most. By actually applying it and doing it.

The assignments always helped to prepare for the tests and teach you the material, there was not really any "busy work", it was all relevant

They helped the most with learning and understanding course content.

I feel that some of the quizzes and assignments were very hard, harder than what he was teaching us. I found many of the assignments difficult because the directions and objectives were not always clearly laid out.

Very helpful

they were good, repetition helped me better understand the problems

Without doing the assignments, I would not have learned the material.

Yes I think the assignments helped greatly. My only complaint is that homework was tough and I put in MANY MANY hours to get it completed.

Going through the assignments and quizzes prepared me well for the exams.

The assignments and quizzes were very helpful with understanding course contents and preparing for tests.

Very well because they are exactly like what we learn

They helped on the assignments.

The assignments and quizzes were helpful in making everything concrete in my brain.

very well. definitely helped me learn the course material.

The quizzes were extremely convoluted and complex. Make the answers simpler to comprehend. Give the nature of the summer course, the assignments were adequate.

I guess they helped, but not that much.

the assignments helped out a lot in understanding the material.

Assignments and quizzes have greatly influenced how well I do on tests
